Take the helm and go your own way, discovering our spectacular worldwide destinations. Revel in the excitement of varied conditions. Plot your course and take on epic twenty-mile passages, or drop anchor to enjoy the serene beaches, bustling ports and lively marinas at your own pace.

On a Sunsail Bareboat charter, you're in control of your own sailing itinerary, giving you the freedom to decide which anchorages and overnight stops you want to make. You can opt to sail one of our suggested itineraries or strike out in search of your own blue water sailing adventure.

Not all destinations require a formal license to be the captain of your own charter yacht. As worldwide requirements vary for Bareboat charters, we will review your sailing experience to match you with the perfect yacht and a destination that best suits your skill level.

Destinations

Worldwide conditions vary from easy line-of-sight navigation to more challenging open water thrills. Our destination skill levels encompass tides, wind, typical weather conditions and any navigational challenges that you may encounter.

Skill level

Our Sunsail bases are categorized by sailing levels to help you find the sailing ground that complements your qualifications.

Level 1: Five days or 100 miles as skipper on an equivalent size yacht is required.

Level 2: 10 days or 200 miles as skipper on an equivalent size yacht is required.

Level 3: 20 days or 400 miles as skipper on an equivalent size yacht or RYA Day Skipper with experience to higher level.*
